

Graduate School of Education

Volume 3 Number 1
February 28, 2020

Newsletter

TEACH-NOW Out and About!

From February 2nd to February 5th, TEACH-NOW had the pleasure of participating in the annual conference for the Association for the Advancement of International Education (AAIE) in New York City. TEACH-NOW was a featured exhibitor at the conference and staff members in attendance included Shina Lawoyin, Jean-Louis Ikambana and Andy Christian.

Our staff had the opportunity to connect with heads of school, principals and association leaders from international schools all over the world. It was a great experience and a wonderful opportunity to connect with like-minded leaders in the education space.

Vice President for Academic Affairs Janet Stocks attended the 2020 annual conference of the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) in January. She attended sessions and engaged in conversations about topics such as: "Quality and Borderless Higher Education" and "Accounting for Teaching's Value." Both the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC) and the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP), accredit TEACH-NOW and are themselves accredited by CHEA.

TEACH-NOW Celebrates 4,000+ Enrollees!

To celebrate 4,000+ enrollees, we are giving back to YOU, our candidates and graduates, to thank you for all of the support over the years! TEACH-NOW has grown to what it is today based on your word-of-mouth recommendations, so please continue to share TEACH-NOW with new applicants between February 1 and March 31, 2020.

You can win one of FIVE $1,000 VISA Gift Cards! To enter, have your friends and colleagues complete an application between February 1 and March 31st and enroll in one of our March or April 2020 cohorts using this link: <https://teach-now.edu/contest4000-apply> and enter your name as how they heard about the program.

Each candidate who begins in this time frame using the link and your name will be an entry to our drawing to win one of five $1,000 VISA Gift Cards!

Job Corner

It's recruitment season, and schools all over the world are hiring. Here are some recent job posts shared by our graduates and contacts!

American Schools of Angola is looking to hire our candidates and graduates! They have many perks and benefits available, and are especially looking for applicants with Special Education training and/or international teaching experience. Apply here!

A TEACH-NOW graduate works at an IB International School in Bishkek, Kyrgyzstan, and shared that they have many openings for Fall 2020! Check out all the vacancies here!

Rokkasho International School in Aomori, Japan is looking for a licensed teacher in Elementary Education/ESL. Interested applicants can contact quinn_t@sunflare.co.jp and learn more about the school here!

What's Next for TEACH-NOW?

TEACH-NOW staff members will be attending the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education annual conference in Atlanta, Georgia on February 27-March 1. The theme of the conference is "Disrupting Inequities: Education for Change". We look forward to learning and making connections with other teacher educators and sharing how our program affordably prepares teachers from all backgrounds all over the world!

We are also in the midst of the application process to become approved in the areas of Special Education and Early Childhood Education in the state of Arizona. Both of these areas are high-needs areas, so we hope to add these areas to our already approved programs in Elementary Education and Secondary Education in Arizona.

