

Graduate School of Education

Volume 2 Number 7
October 31, 2019

Newsletter

New Programs at TEACH-NOW!

We are proud to announce the approval of two new programs at TEACH-NOW Graduate School of Education!

Our twelve-month Master's in Educational Leadership is designed for candidates who wish to become a Principal, Head of School, Assistant Principal, or other administrative school leader anywhere in the world. The curriculum incorporates the Professional Standards for Education Leaders (PSEL) and a six-month internship in school administration..

This new offering is a 10 module, year-long Master's degree, unique from the Teacher Preparation program. Learn more and apply here!

For those of you who have already enrolled in, or graduated from the Teacher Preparation program, we are launching a brand new focus area for our Master's in Education: Educational Technology. This focus area will prepare you to be an educational technology leader in your schools and districts, with a focus on using technology to expand educational opportunities and support student achievement. You will learn how to effectively integrate technology in curriculum design and instructional coaching, create an instructional design solution, and implement it using the appropriate infrastructure and technology at a school.

This focus area is an additional 4 modules following the Teacher Preparation program. Learn more and apply here!

Follow along for real-time updates on our social media!

TEACH-NOW Out and About

Director of Recruitment, Admissions, and Enrollment Flora Dakas traveled to Olympia, Washington this month to attend the Dream Big Career and Education Fair, as well as a pop-up networking event. She shared information about TEACH-NOW programs with Active Duty Service Members, Veterans, and spouses of Veterans.

On Thursday, October 24th, TEACH-NOW attended the 2019 DC Charter School Conference at the FHI 360 Conference Center in Washington, DC. The staff members present included Shina Lawoyin, Jean-Louis Ikambana and Judy Corcillo. At the conference, they connected with a wide range of education professionals, vendors, charter school leaders, board members and much more. The conference was a great opportunity to increase our visibility and get the word out about TEACH-NOW in the DC area.

Mobility Survey Results

Recently, we conducted a survey of our candidates and graduates in order to get a better sense of where in the world our people are, and what they are up to. Thanks for all your responses! Many of you have taught in multiple countries, and on average, you have taught in more than 3 type of schools. Nearly 90% of you are currently teaching, and over 96% plan to be teaching next year. You are all an incredible group of people and we are proud to support you in your teaching success all around the globe!

